

SAVE THE DATE!!!

ASPCA/MADDIE'S® SHELTER MEDICINE CONFERENCE

JULY 14/15, 2012

CORNELL UNIVERSITY

On Saturday and Sunday, July 14th and 15th the 9th Annual ASPCA/Maddie's® Shelter Medicine Conference will be held at Cornell University's College of Veterinary Medicine in Ithaca, NY. This conference will offer continuing education for veterinarians, medical staff, administration, and board members in the following areas:

Legal issues and medical findings in cases of animal cruelty and neglect

High quality, high volume spay/neuter

Shelter animal enrichment and matching programs

An update on "Is This Cat Feral?" research project

A review of The Association of Shelter Veterinarian's Guidelines for Standards of Care in Animal Shelters

Infectious disease: Updates, diagnostic testing, and management of outbreaks

The use of a Geographic Information System to help target animal populations for spay/neuter

Zoonoses

Successful adoptions

Grant writing

...and more!

For more information please contact Erin Earley at erin.earley@aspca.org

Registration for this conference will open in March at www.aspcapro.org